Strength Through Knowledge

That critical time for state schools is here again. Biennial budgets, those precarious edifices of numbers on paper, must, in the next six months, bear the closest scrutiny of a Budgetary Commission and General Assembly under heavy pressure for more money from practically every state agency, but responsible to, and acutely conscious of, an economy-minded electorate.

Fortunately for the teachers colleges of Illinois, the glare of publicity is on the plight of the public schools. And it is only elementary logic that the welfare of the teacher-preparatory institutions is basic to improvement of the public schools.

Unfortunately, there is no highly organized, effective lobby to keep this bit of elementary logic before members of the state legislature.

Alumni of the state teachers colleges, helpful though they wish to be and often actually are, seldom feel a sense of urgency about the alma mater's budget. Not the kind of urgency that trucking companies feel when, let us say, license fees are in danger of being raised.

However, 200,000 well-informed alumni, many of them in teaching or in other positions of influence, can be a powerful force. And the five state teachers colleges (let's count Southern Illinois University this time) have 200,000 alumni.

Note that we said "well-informed." If you know nothing about the needs of teacher education, better keep quiet on the subject

A man with a gift for pithy remarks, Coach Cliff White is fond of saying, "You don't have to be crazy to run cross country, but it helps."

This year, with a group made up chiefly of "real crazy" underclassmen, including the outstanding runner in the IAC (Chuck Matheny), Cliff really cleaned up. The group pictured on the cover slammed two dual meets and went undefeated in five, then ran away with the state title. It was the first time Wheaton had lost in Illinois in nine years.

Eastern Budget Calls for New Training School, Residence Hall

Only Increase in Operations Request Is for Staff, Employee Salaries.

This year the teachers colleges of the nation noted a gratifying upsurge of interest in teaching as a career, an interest expressed in greater freshman enrollments everywhere.

Eastern Illinois State College experienced the largest increase of in the presence of your local legislator. He'll know more than you do and your sympathetic attitude without knowledge will look a little silly.

Why not read the accompanying article about Eastern's budget askings for 1955-57?

freshmen recorded at any teachers college of the central Midwest. This was shown in a recent survey made among colleges of similar nature in Illinois and adjoining states. Freshman enrollment at Charleston jumped from 507 in 1953 to 759 in 1954, an increase of nearly 50 per cent. The total enrollment increase for Eastern was 32 per cent over last year, from 1223 to 1605 full-time resident students.

These increases promise to continue until total enrollment may well be 2,000 by 1957, particularly if student housing can be provided. Yet Eastern's budget request for operating expenses shows the smallest increase of any of the Illinois teachers colleges. The 1953-55 biennium appropriation was $3,-68,778. The proposed budget for 1955-57 is only $3,801,632, a 13.2 per cent increase over 1953-55. Most of this increase would be used to meet requirements of the new salary schedule adopted for all state-supported teacher-training colleges. The new schedule was adopted in order to maintain the quality of academic staffs.

Eastern has asked for no increases in funds for contractual services, travel, commodities, printing, equipment, refunds, or contributions—categories in which the other colleges are asking for increases ranging from 4.8 per cent up to 117 per cent.

Training School Commitment

For three years most of Eastern's Elementary Laboratory School classes totaling some 260 students in grades one through eight have been housed in what was once an ammunition building at Illiopolis. While ingenious use of cheap modern materials has made the building more or less comfortable, Eastern can hardly say to school people of the area that it is a "model" school. There was a day when the campus school, in which hundreds of students have had their first teaching experience, was called "The Model School."

The old Training School Building on Eastern's campus was found to be a structural and fire hazard several years ago. It has since been modeled and is scheduled eventually to house college classes which spill over from Old Main. This year Eastern State High School occupies the building. Next year Eastern State High will be disbanded and the upper three classes transferred to the new Charleston Community Unit High School, which will provide practice teaching opportunities for college students under a plan worked out between the Teachers College Board and the Community Unit Board.

A part of the cooperative plan calls for a laboratory school on the Eastern campus to provide schooling from kindergarten through grade nine and offer laboratory experiences in elementary teaching, where the teacher shortage is

Alumni Elect Joe Snyder, Ex-'39, President for 1954-55 Term

Joe Snyder, a member of the Class of 1939, was elected president of the Eastern Alumni Association this fall, edging Ivan (Ike) Kennard, a member of the Class of 1944.

The presidential election was unusual in that both nominees are non-graduates. Snyder left school lacking less than a year's work for the degree. Kennard has finished more than two years of work. He has attended summer school recently and Snyder is now enrolled on a part-time basis. Mrs. Kennard, the former Marilyn Joan King, took the degree in 1945. Mrs. Snyder, the former Frances Faught, finished three years of work and taught for several years.

The nominating committee wished to emphasize that non-grads are members of the Alumni Association and can take an active part in its program.

Snyder is an agent for the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company. He lives in Charleston. Long interested in alumni activities, he has served as president of the Bird Dog Club and as co-chairman with Kennard of the Charleston Boosters Club.

Snyder succeeds Harold Marker, '34, as president of the Association. Marker's interest and contributions to the Association set a high standard for future leaders.

The new vice-president of the Association is Mervin Baker, '40. Baker is a highly successful coach. He recently came from Dupon, Ill., to Charleston High School, where his teams are beginning to rank among the Eastern Illinois League leaders. He outstripped his CHS assistant, John Powers, for the Association office.

Mrs. Helen Phipps VanDeventer, '32, beat Jim Giffin, '46, by one vote for the office of secretary-treasurer. Mrs. VanDeventer is the wife of Eastern math professor Dr. Lester VanDeventer, '38.

New executive committee members are Mrs. Betty Heise Reat, '47, who served part of an unexpired term last year on appointment, and Don Hutton, '48. Other executive committee members are Ogden Brainard, '26; Mrs. Fred Frommel, '25; Maurice Foreman, '27; and Roscoe Hampton, '18.

PTA Establishes Loan Fund

The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers has established a new loan fund at Eastern, granting $1,000 for the purpose. The new fund, available to students at interest rates not to exceed three per cent, will be known as the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers Loan Fund.

most severe. A larger group of children from the city can be accommodated under this arrangement. Plans for this laboratory school are now in blueprint and specifications. It is the No. 1 building project at Eastern, and the College Board is committed to secure it at the earliest possible date.

Ask for Residence Hall

It would be conservative to estimate that Eastern could provide 100 more teachers for the State of Illinois each year if there were residence halls on campus to house another 300 to 400 students. Parents as well as students like the advantages of dormitory life. Eastern turned away many potential students this year because its dormitories were full. For this reason, the Board has approved a plan whereby the state would pay part of the construction cost of a new residence hall. The remainder would be paid for from the sale of bonds, which would be amortized from income.

The Board, in an effort to cut budgetary askings to the bare minimum, eliminated the music and art building which, in the minds of many who know Eastern's needs best, should have equal priority with the laboratory school and residence hall.

Eastern's 1954 Parents Day proved to be the best attended since the custom was adopted some five years ago. Nearly 1200 people attended the post-game luncheon and heard a report from President Buzzard.

History Assignment Turns up $500 Lord Memorial Book Fund

A history assignment to a faculty member brought to light a lost and forgotten $500 fund this fall.

Dr. William H. Zeigel, secretary of the Eastern Division of the Illinois Education Association, received the assignment as part of his report at the Division meeting in October. The meeting marked the 100th anniversary of the founding of the IEA and the 56th year of the Eastern Division, so history seemed appropriate.

Dr. Zeigel began a study of the Division minutes as far back as 1908. When he came down to the minutes of the 1933 meeting, he found that the Division had established a $500 fund as a suitable remembrance for Livingston C. Lord, Eastern's first president and former IEA officer, who died in May of 1933.

An L. C. Lord Memorial Committee proposed to invest the money as a trust fund. The interest was to be used to purchase books for the college library. But after 1934, when the money was paid over to the Committee, there was no further mention of the trust fund in Division minutes.

In following up this lead, Dr. Zeigel asked the help of Dr. Roscoe Schaupp, Eastern's head librarian, who found one mention of the fund in a library report written by Miss Mary J. Booth in 1941. According to the report, 23 volumes, including some of Lord's favorite Mark Twain stories, had been purchased that year with accumulated interest from the fund.

One member of the original committee, Dr. E. H. Taylor, still lives in Charleston, and it was at his suggestion that Dr. Zeigel checked with the Charleston Savings and Loan Association. The fund was there, and growing bigger every year. It has grown from $500 to $789.58 in the last 13 years.

Clyde Mills, '38, superintendent of schools at Altamont, Ill., was seriously ill as the Alumnus went to press. He had been taken to the hospital in Champaign.

Dr. Roscoe Schaupp, Eastern's head librarian to whom the task of selecting titles for the Lord Memorial Book Shelf has been assigned, has appealed to Eastern alumni for help. Says he:

"I'll appreciate suggestions for the Lord Memorial Collection from former students and faculty. What are the books Lord read from, or quoted, or would have liked? Purchases will be delayed until spring so that anyone who would like to make a suggestion will have time to do so."

Send titles to R. F. Schaupp, Librarian.

To date, the collection consists of four volumes of the Cambridge Autobiography, Biography by A. B. two copies of the Isabel McKinney biography, Mr. Lord; the Theodore Roosevelt Cyclopedica; Mark Twain's Autobiography, Biography by A. B. Paine, Letters, The American Claimant, Christian Science, Europe and Elsewhere, The Gilded Age, In Defense of Harriet Shelley, Sketches New and Old, and What Is Man?; and White's Shelley.

Members of the Illinois legislature express approval of the Eastern plate prepared by the Charleston Kiwanis Club. In early November, President Buzzard made a gift of one plate to each member of the above group, which was making inspections of state colleges. L. to r.—August C. Grebe, William Robison, Frank P. Johnson, Lillian Piotrowski, Elbert Smith, and President R. G. Buzzard.

Put College Plate On Sale to Alums

An Eastern plate with the building motif displayed on this page is now available through the Alumni Office. Alumni and friends of the college can purchase them on campus for $1.50 or order them mailed to any address in the United States for $2.00. They make excellent Christmas gifts! The Alumni Office will mail gift plates on the day the order is received until December 23. After that date the Office will be closed for the holidays.

The plate project was organized by the Charleston Kiwanis Club, of which Bill Reat, ex-'44, is president. The club has found the plate to be very popular. Sample comments:

"It is one of the best of its kind that I have seen. It will make a fine addition to my collection."

Mrs. Harriett Lowden Madlener, member of the Teachers College Board.

"I'm very grateful that the Kiwanis Club has taken on this project. I had hoped for some time that some organization would do so. The nicest part of it is that the plate is so well done and attractive. Alumni will be proud to have them." R. G. Buzzard, president of the college.

"Bravo! A real public relations contribution to the college. Hats off to the Kiwanis Club." Joe Snyder, president, Alumni Association.

Business Department Has Most Students

Business education attracts the largest number of students at Eastern again this year, according to Dr. Newell Gates, registrar. There are 322 business, 201 elementary education, 134 men's physical education, 110 industrial arts, 83 social science, 80 home economics, 70 music, 56 English, and 53 women's physical education majors.

The other departments have major students in the following numbers: speech 46, chemistry 37, art 36, botany 31, zoology 26, physics 16, foreign language 15, and geography 13. Two hundred three students are enrolled in various two-year curricula. As of October 1, only one student had enrolled in the four year general education curriculum announced last summer. This number is expected to increase considerably within the next year, however, as the program becomes better known.

Crews' Band Wins

Jack Crews, '50, took top honors at Eastern's annual Band Day in early October. His Newton High School Band won the title of honor band over 14 others in the morning and gave a pre-game show at the football contest in the afternoon. This year the Illinois High School Association sanctioned competition between marching bands attending the Band Day festival.

Margaret Anne 'North' Makes Clean Sweep of Baby Contests

'Best Baby'

Margaret Anne

Margaret Anne "North" has turned out to be a living testimonial to the success of Eastern's experiment in "borrowed babies" for the home management house. Margaret Anne was the first baby to spend most of the first year of its life on the campus, where she was under the care of Dr. Ruth Schmalhausen and 12 coed "mothers."

Word came to Miss Schmalhausen last fall that Margaret Anne, now three years old, walked off with two first prizes and a sweepstakes award in a baby contest at a district fair in a Southern state. She was first judged the best baby in her age group; then she won the blue ribbon as the best baby girl and finally was judged the best baby in the contest. Her mother sent Miss Schmalhausen the photo which accompanies this story.

It was after Margaret Anne's successor, David "North," arrived on campus for the 1953-54 school year that the experiment was challenged on psychological grounds. The child welfare division of the State Department of Public Welfare contended that David's personality was endangered by the absence of a "father person" and the presence of more than one "mother person." The Department failed to pursue the point after the director of the child welfare division visited the home management house as a result of repeated invitations from the college.

The new program of child care instruction for home economics majors continues at Eastern and is being copied by other Illinois teachers colleges this year. Northern of DeKalb and Illinois Normal both had babies in their home management houses, though only on a part-time basis, this fall.

Hal Hubbard, '49, was seriously ill in the Charleston Hospital in early December. He expected to be released Sunday, Dec. 6, however, Hubbard teaches at Charleston High School.

Education Honor Frat Initiates Thirty-Six

Kappa Delta Pi initiated 36 new members this fall. They are Edith Alter, Elizabeth Baker, Donald Brough, Marjorie Burkett, Dorothy Bush, Kay Curry, Mary Drake, Genevra Dvorak, Bob Gaudauskas, Carolyn Haney, Marjorie Harrum, Helen Hopper, Betty Humphres, Eloise Isley, Donn Kelsey, Marion Kleiss, Writesman Long, Winona McKown, Ben Moulder, Harryetta Peterka, Nelle Phillips, Joan Refeitt, Glena Lee Roberds, Leo Ruley, Eleanor Salisbury, Lorene Sawyer, Jc Ann Stuebe, Virginia Taylor, Joyce Tesson, Alice Tolle, Patricia Wetzell, Roland Wickiser, Wilma Winters, Don Woods, Joan Wyack, and Martha Wylie.

Speaker at the initiation banquet was Dr. Charles Allen, principal of the University High School, Urbana. Dr. Allen, whose father, Fiske Allen, was Eastern's first training school principal, mentioned that he and Raymond Cook, now head of the Chicago Teachers College, were the first two graduates of the Teachers College High School, which closes this year.

Campus News Notes

Up-to-Date Now . . .

New machines—engine lathes, grinders, shapers, power saws, milling machines — were installed in Eastern's industrial arts department to replace worn-out and obsolete pieces this fall. According to Dr. Walter Klehm, department head, machinery replaced was manufactured between 1918 and 1926. Before the new machinery was purchased Dr. Harry Gunder-son of the metal working shop toured high schools of the area to ascertain what types of equipment are currently being used. The college has equipped its shops with machines typical of those graduates will use in teaching.

Students from Abroad . . .

Eastern has several interesting foreign students on campus this year. They include Willem Lam-brechtse, who comes from The Hague, Holland; Vahan Churukian of Syria; Juan (Paco) Rojas of Costa Rica; Vatsala Kadaba of Mysore, India; Princewill Kanu of Nigeria; and Robert Marshall of Scotland.

Several of these students appeared in a 15 minute TV interview program produced by Eastern's radio class under the instruction of Dr. Elbert Moses in November. Station WCIA of Champaign offered the time to Eastern.

Prizes in the Homecoming float and house decorations contests this fall were awarded as follows:

Floats, organized houses: First—Tau Kappa Epsilon; second—Sigma Sigma Sigma; third—Sigma Pi. Unorganized clubs: First—Business Club; second—Vets' Club; third—Junior High School. Comedy floats:

First—Douglas Hall; second—Independent Union; third—Tau Kappa Epsilon.

House decorations, organized houses: First—Phi Sigma Epsilon; second—Delta Sigma Epsilon; third—Tau Kappa Epsilon. Unorganized houses: First—Pemberton Hall; second—Lincoln - Douglas Halls; third—Clancy house (1444 Seventh).

Small World . . .

Jerry Showalter, a former Eastern student now in the Air Force, recently met the pen pal of another Eastern student while stationed in England. The latter is Miss Clarissa Flenniken of Cowden, Ill., who has corresponded for years with an English girl living in Cowden, Kent. At Miss Flenniken's request, Showalter visited Cowden, Kent, and the first person he met was the girl he wanted to find, Miss Pauline DeGrys.

Showalter is now stationed at Lockbourne Air Field near Columbus, O.

County Club Season . . .

Two county Eastern State Clubs have held meetings this school year. They are the Macon and Fayette clubs. Dr. Elizabeth Michael addressed the Macon group at Decatur and Mr. Sam Pisaro spoke before the Fayette club at Vandalia.

Education for All . . .

Delmar Elder, his son, Darrell, and his daughter, Janet, are all enrolled at Eastern. Elder and his son are sophomore elementary majors and Janet is in the eighth grade. The elder Elder has taught for 14 years at Sullivan, Ill., having secured a teaching certificate by examination. But last year he decided to do something about his long-time goal of a college degree. He sold a purebred dairy herd he and his family had built, rented a home in Charleston, and went in for college education as a family affair.

Letters Department: Want a Portrait?

November 12, 1954

Mr. Stanley Elam
The Alumni Office
Eastern Illinois State College
Charleston, Illinois

Dear Stanley:

I have been thinking for some time that I would like to have photographs of Dr. Lord and Dr. Buzzard, suitable for framing. I would much prefer to have them in color.

I have been wondering, also, if other Alumni would not like to have one or both photos, which leads me to ask you to consider whether you could have color reproductions of the paintings of both men made and offered for sale, perhaps at a slight profit for the benefit of one of the scholarship funds.

I am thinking of photos 8½ x 11, though there might be two sizes.

With all good wishes,

Sincerely yours,
D. F. Fleming

The ALUMNUS will welcome suggestions from other alumni with regard to this project. It would be possible to offer color reproductions of President Buzzard's portrait quite inexpensively, using color plates purchased last year by the Warbler. To have color plates made so that similar reproductions of the Lord portrait could be offered would involve a considerable investment of money by the Alumni Association. There would have to be a guaranteed sale of more than 400 at $1 per copy if the project were to be self-liquidating. However, color reproductions could be made in any quantity using a photographic rather than letterpress printing process. These would probably cost about $3 each in the standard 8 x 10 inch size.

Blood Will Tell, Say Eastern's Camel Authorities; They Took a Look

Dave Winters and Clarence Stevenson have found out why zoologists don't agree on the question, "Do camel's blood cells have nuclei?"

Says Winters, a senior zoology major at Eastern, "It's because no zoologist who values his skin would go near a camel. They're the orneriest beast on earth."

Winters and Stevenson know. With Dr. Walter M. Scruggs, '28, head of the zoology department, they got camel's blood samples at the Forest Park Zoo in St. Louis this fall. But not before the camel had struggled long and loud to prevent it. The blood-seekers were warned by zoo officials to hasten the process when nearby elephants got restless as a result of the camel's protests.

By testing the blood samples, Winters and Stevenson settled to their own satisfaction, at least, the above-mentioned zoological controversy. After making a dozen slides of camel blood cells they concluded: Not a single nucleus.

Dr. L. A. Adams, emeritus professor of zoology at the University of Illinois, has contended that the camel is the only mammal that has blood nuclei. Harvard's famed zoologist, Herbert Rand, says no.

Winters and Stevens, who received their scientific training at Eastern, figured there was only one way to be sure—look and see.

Writes 'Lincoln Legend'

Dr. Donald R. Alter of Eastern's social science department has had numerous requests for copies of a 30-minute radio script he developed in his world history class, entitled "The Lincoln Legend." The script was mentioned in the November issue of Illinois Education.

Enrolls at U. of Florida

Ann Hardin, '54, is a master's degree student at the University of Florida, Gainesville, where she is specializing in speech correction. Her address is 1112 S. W. Fourth Ave., Gainesville.

To Present Xmas Opera

Eastern's music department will present a Christmas opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," on Sunday, Dec. 12, and Wednesday, Dec. 15. The first performance will be at 4 p.m. and the second at 10 a.m.

Students Plan Redecoration

Eleven advanced students in home economics planned complete redecoration of a home at 6 Lincoln St., Charleston, this fall. Miss Marcia Levitt, a secretary in the Public Relations Office, wished to operate the house for girl students at the college. So she had it decorated the way college girls want it.

Eastern's Queen

Homecoming queen for 1954 was Miss Earlene Petty, senior from Pana, Ill., a home economics major and member of Delta Zeta. Her court was composed of Donna Ross of Villa Grove, Georgeann Bell of St. Francisville, Connie Jo Pownall of Donnelson, and Peggy Frew of Oak Lawn. The queen was crowned at a dance played by Ralph Mater Saturday, October 30.

Harriers Win State First, IIAC Second; Matheny Champ

Coach Clifton White is a firm believer in the saying that "history repeats itself."

White's 1954 cross country team proved itself the best small college squad in Illinois; but when the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference meet rolled around, the Panthers took second place, the same second-place standing they have held in three of the past four league meets.

Bright spot of the meet, however, was the winning of the individual championship by Chuck Matheny, junior from Paris.

Matheny won the 3 3-4 mile run with a time of 19:46, finishing ahead of Bob Rowland, Michigan Normal's ace harrier who had placed first the past two years.

Team honors in the meet went to Michigan Normal with 24 points; Eastern was second with 45. Other scores were Illinois Normal, 91; Central Michigan, 107; Southern, 114; Western, 126; and Northern, 154.

One week earlier, the Panthers had taken first place in the state cross country meet, beating out a field of eight headed by Wheaton, winner of the meet for the past eight years.

Until the league meet, the Eastern harriers had gone undefeated. During the season, they defeated Southern 17-41 and 15-44, Illinois Normal 16-42, Northern 16-42, and Bradley University 15-45.

The 15-45 sweep over Bradley represented the first time in Coach White's career at Eastern that one of his cross country teams had finished 1-2-3-4-5 for a slam. In the second SIU meet the Whitemen duplicated the feat.

Jim Mitchell, junior from Newton, ran fourth in the IIAC meet and Jim Edmundson, junior from St. Elmo, ran ninth. Fred Gore, junior from Danville, was fourteenth, and Ed Ethington, freshman from Mattoon, was fifteenth.

In four of the five dual meets of

Cage Team Seeks Seventh Straight Conference Title

Six returning lettermen will lead the 1954-55 Panther cage squad in quest of its seventh consecutive Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference crown.

The Panther's open a 21-game schedule December 8 when they meet a strong Findlay, Ohio, five in Lantz Gym. Following non-league contests with Findlay, Franklin, Indiana State and Indiana Central, Coach Bob Carey's five will open defense of its IIAC title January 7 against Southern at Charleston.

Back from last season's starting five that won 17 of 23 games are forwards Dean Brauer, 6-3 junior from Staunton and an all-IIAC selection at that position; and Ron Claussen, 6-3 junior from Chicago; center Jack Kenny, 6-5 senior from Covington, Ind.; and guard Ken Ludwig, 6-0 senior from Effingham.

Also back are lettermen Bob Gosnell, 6-4 junior center from Lawrenceville; and Kermit Radloff, 6-0 senior guard from Strasburg.

Two possibilities for a starting combination have been indicated by Coach Carey. The most likely combination would have Kenny shifting to a forward position and teaming with Brauer, while Claussen would shift to a guard and team with Ken Ludwig at that position. Gosnell would then move to the center post.

The second possibility would be to move Radloff into the guard position vacated by Martin Chilovich, while the four returning regulars played the same positions as last season.

Other top candidates for varsity positions are returnees Bill Parmentier, 6-0 junior guard from Gillespie; Lloyd Ludwig, 6-2 sophomore forward from Effingham; Jim Foran, 6-1 sophomore guard from Morton Grove; Ed Hartweger, 6-2 sophomore forward from Gillespie; Pete Krainock, 6-0 junior guard from Danville; and Jerry Porter, 5-9 sophomore guard from Mattoon.

In addition, fourteen freshmen and one sophomore are seeking positions on the team.

Freshmen are Bob Drugan, 6-1 guard from Chicago; Kermit Frailey, 6-2 forward from Ramsey; Gerald Gossett, 6-0 guard from Hoopes-ton; Franklin Hartweger, 6-3 forward from Gillespie; Jim Hatfield, 6-1 forward from Charleston;

Jerry Hise, 6-1 guard from Decatur; Jackie Dean Johnson, 6-0 guard from Middletown; Jim Maxedon, 6-2 forward from Windsor; John Milholland, 5-11 guard from Westville; Jim Monge, 5-11 guard from Roanoke;

John Moomey, 5-11 guard from Tri-City; Dave Murphy, 6-2 center from Robinson; Floyd Storm, 6-4 center from Stewardson; and Frankin Wolf, 6-0 guard from Benson; and sophomore Dick Phipps, 6-5 center from Charleston.

Eastern opened its season by defeating Findlay (Ohio) 84-72 at Charleston.

Gridders Tie Western, Whip Northern at Close of Season

Getting off to a slow start, the 1954 Panther football team began to find itself about halfway through the season and completed the schedule in a manner that the won-lost record does not show.

The Eastern eleven won two of its nine scheduled contests and tied one. In Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference play, the squad raised itself out of the cellar position it has occupied the past two years to rank fifth in the 1954 final standings.

Several factors playing a large part in the improvement of the Panthers were the return of two former lettermen, the conversion of a quarterback to an end, the consistent performance of a sophomore fullback, and the speed and agility of two 145-pound halfbacks by the name of Brown.

Back in the Blue and Gray after completing tours of duty with the armed forces were halfback Bill Hardin, who first saw action under Coach Maynard O'Brien in 1948-49, and guard Chuck Smith, a 1951 letterman.

Hardin, who played little in the first third of the season while getting himself in condition, averaged 4.2 yards per carry and ranked second in the Panther rushing department.

Equalling Hardin's 4.2 yards per carry was sophomore fullback Roger West, the Panther workhorse from Wyanet. West carried the ball 80 times for a total of 338 yards. He led the squad in scoring, rushing, punting, and kickoff returns.

The Wyanet sophomore scored six of the Panthers' 16 touchdowns and six of the 12 extra points to net 42 points. He punted 28 times for 893 yards and an average of 31.8 yards per kick. He returned 15 of the opponents' kickoffs an average of 20 yards per return.

With the steady inside gaining of Hardin and West, the Panthers found two outside men in the Browns. Darrell, a sophomore from Oakland, carried the leather 22 times for 139 yards and three touchdowns, an average of 6.3 yards per carry, to rank third in rushing.

Winston Brown, a sophomore from New Orleans, La., ranked fifth in rushing with 125 yards and one touchdown in 26 carries. He caught five passes for 70 yards.

With Gene Ward, junior from Champaign and Gary Anderson, junior from Litchfield, performing the duties at quarterback, Coach O'Brien shifted Bob Thrash to an end position. Playing only about half the season at end, Thrash topped all Panther pass receivers with nine catches for 127 yards.

The Panthers dropped non-league openers to Indiana State (40-7) and Kalamazoo (19-7) and were shut out, 60-0 and 33-0, by Central Michigan and Michigan Normal. The two Wolverine schools tied for the IAC championship.

However, the Eastern eleven came back to down the Navy Pier Illini 40-6, but lost a 20-6 Homecoming decision to the Salukis from Southern Illinois University.

Traveling to Macomb, Coach O'Brien's charges held strong Western Illinois (the only league team to defeat Central Michigan) to a 13-13 tie.

Against Illinois Normal at home, a fumble on the five yard line with 47 seconds remaining in the game lost the Panthers an opportunity to tie or defeat the Redbirds. Illinois Normal won 13-7.

the season, Matheny, Mitchell, Gore and Ethington crossed the finish line ahead of any of the opposition.

Other regulars on the cross country squad were Clint Byrd, freshman from Paris; and Joe Mansfield, sophomore from Paris.

All members of the 1954 cross country squad will be returning next season, and Coach White will make another try for the conference crown.

Franke Wins Second 'Most Valuable' Vote

Arnold Franke, senior from Mt. Olive, has been named by his Panther teammates as the most valuable player on the 1954 football team.

Franke, the team's regular center for the past four seasons, was also awarded the most valuable title in 1953. He was team captain during the recent season.

In addition to team honors, he was named second-team center on the All-IIAC Team in both 1953 and 1954.

As a freshman and sophomore, the 200-pound center played both offense and defense under the two-platoon system.

He became the Panthers' regular center in the second game of his freshman season when starter Howard "Pete" Edinger, ex-'53, suffered a knee injury.

The Panthers had to win their final game to keep clear of the league cellar, and they accomplished this mission by thumping Northern Illinois 28-9 at DeKalb.

Eastern's line, anchored at center by senior Arnold Franke, Mt. Olive, was maintained at the flanks by tackles Don Magsamen, senior from Tolono, and Ray Fisher, sophomore from Charleston.

Roy Hatfield, Champaign junior, and Larry Shacklee, Robinson freshman, opened the season at the guard posts, but injuries plagued them constantly. Chuck Smith plugged the gap at one guard position, while Ron Leonard, sophomore from East St. Louis, worked into the other.

Injuries also hurt the Panthers at the end and halfback positions. Ron Landers, senior end from Sullivan, was lost for the season on the kickoff of the third game. He suffered a leg injury. Gene Murphy, senior end from Winnebago, missed the middle of the schedule with a leg injury, and Ed Gire, junior end from Villa Grove received a broken ankle in the final home game.

Gary Newell, junior halfback and top place kicker from Pekin, suffered a recurring knee injury in the second game of the season and saw no more action.

Bob Gilpin, sophomore from Atwood, paired with Hardin at the halfback position to give the Panthers a starting backfield of Ward, Hardin, Gilpin and West at the close of the season.

Also seeing varsity action in the backfield were freshman quarterbacks Douglas Reincke, Taylorville, and William Murray, Winnebago; halfbacks Bob Gouin, South Lyon, Mich., Bennie Fay, Oak Lawn, and Walt Cohrs, Mooseheart.

Chuck Larson, junior center from Winnebago, is likely slated for the center post next season with the graduation of Arnold Franke. Larson saw plenty of action this season, both at the center and guard positions.

Panther linemen who saw only limited action because of minor injuries were guards John Murphy, junior from Atwood, and Frank Nickell, sophomore from Atwood.

Here are a few of the floats that made Eastern's 1954 Homecoming parade one of the most colorful in recent years. Based on the "Comics on Parade" theme, floats leaned heavily toward Al Capp, but the first division winner (lower right) was Eastern's own "Pete Panther."

Holiday Greetings, Alumni!

It is a rare privilege for us in the Alumni-Public Relations Office to come to know so many members of Eastern's far-flung family. We genuinely appreciate it, and we take this opportunity to express our pleasure in the wonderful response you have made to our many joint projects. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

*Sincerely,
Stanley Elam, Director
